New York, Dec. 30.—A circular recently issued by the New York Central Railroad company relating to the contemplated absorption by that company of the Lake Shore Railroad corporation was of especial interest to the small group which has persistently held on to its Lake Shore stock. It was the general presumption when some years ago the New York Central Railroad company offered to buy the stock of the Lake Shore and to pay for that stock in collateral trust bonds, that the proposition would be gladly accepted by practically all the stockholders of the Lake Shore Railroad company. The New York Central management knew when it made the offer that it would be able to purchase a majority of the shares of the Lake Shore Railroad company. These were held by William K. Vanderbilt and were presumed to represent a considerable portion of the estate which he received from his father, William H. Vanderbilt. The younger Vanderbilt, it has always been presumed, added considerably to the Lake Shore stock which came to him by inheritance. Like his father, he had abundant faith in the future of this railroad company. But, as the dominant influence in the New York Central Railroad company at the time the proposition was made to purchase the Lake Shore stock, he realized that the permanent, unshakable control by the New York Central of the Lake Shore was a consummation which the soundest business policy demanded.

The same conditions probably exist all over Kansas as exist here," said "Sunny" Flora, the weather observer this afternoon. "The cold wave and conditions that produce snow flurries are general in this section of the country. The wind is blowing 12 miles an hour from the northwest. The hourly record:
